Pacific Policy Research to Inform Programs

| Project Title | Pacific Policy Research to Inform Programs  |
|---------------|---|
| Project       | The Political/Economic Section of U.S. Embassy Suva is seeking an intern to conduct |
| Summary       | desk research and analysis on policy and program topics to inform our work.         |
| Country       | Fiji  |

Project Description

U.S. Embassy Suva covers political and economic issues across five Pacific island countries – Fiji, Kiribati, Nauru, Tonga, and Tuvalu. The issues play a critical and dynamic role within our diplomatic relationship. Your principle task would be to conduct desk reviews on key policy and program topics in order to provide important background information and supporting analysis to officers. Example tasks could include summary snapshots on the economy or political history or searching, compiling, and reviewing the projects in region related to infrastructure. The research could also expand into writing as time/interest allow. This internship is perfect for students interested in politics, economics, policy, and the Pacific region!

Required Skills or Interests

| Skill(s)                 |
|--------------------------|
| Analytical writing       |
| Data analysis            |
| Editing and proofreading |
| Research                 |
| Writing                  |

Additional Information

None

Language Requirements

None